CRUSHED BY A WILD CAR.

A CABLE CAR CREATES A PANIC AT KANSAS CITY.

Despite Locked Wheels, Its Heavy Lond Carries It Into a Crowd-Fort Leavenworth Soldiers In-Jured-Leg Broken.

Kansas Cirr, Mo., Sept. 8.—The only serious accident attendant upon the enor-mous crowd which flowed like a torrent through Main and neighboring streets last night was at the corner of Tenth and Main streets, where a Tenth street cable car oft its tracks and plunged into the crowd. The accident occurred about 9:30 clock. The People's cable railway on Tenth street had not been seriously inter-fered with by the parade, and its cars continued to run with considerable regularity after the other lines had been shut down. A Tenth street car came down the steep hill and across Walnut street. After the crossing was made the passenger coach was uncoupled from the grip car and proceeded down the switch to take its place on the south track ready for the return trip. Just as the first wheels struck the switch the car was boarded by crowd of men and boys. From Main street up the hill towards Wainut street Tenth street was almost a solid mass of people, and it was with difficulty that the

To guard against accident the superin endent of the road had put five extra gripmen on the hill and they had taken places at each end of the car, so that should one brake break the other could be used, and as the car struck the main track the wheels were locked fast, but the crowd on the car and especially on the rear platform gave the sliding car great momentum, so that instead of stopping the speed in-creased. Wooden buffers were fastened n the track to hold the wheels, but like a shot they passed over them and on down oward Main street.

special policemen could keep the tracks

There was a wild cry. Men were crushed and women fainted and in an instant there was a panic. Everybody wanted to know who was hurt and nobody was able to help the injured. A dozen soldiers from Fort Levenworth were standing in front of the wild car when it broke loose and they were the greatest sufferers. When the car stopped ergeant G. C. Burnell was held down by the wheels, which had run close to his broast, but not over him. The crowd surged up against the car and lifted it bodily while Corporal Norlin drew Burnell from under it, while he himself was suffering great pain from a bruised body. The patrol wagon was called, but when the doctor got there some of the injured had been taken away by friends. Of those he attended Ordnance Sergeant Richard Wootin and Sergeant G. C. Burnell of Fort Leavenworth were the most seriously hurt. Wootin's left leg was struck four inches above the ankle and broken in several places and he may be a cripple for life. Burnell's injuries are largely internal, but Police Surgeon Iuen, who made a hasty examination, does not think they will be serious. Edward Norlin, corporal in the First cavalry, received a severe contusion on the left leg and his left side was bruised. Corporal A. E. Lewis, of Leavenworth,

MR. ECAN GIVES NOTICE.

The Chilean Authorities are Warned to be More Discreet.

Santiago, Chile, Oct., 6.-The Chilean government have so far evinced no inten-tion of abandoning the position that it has a perfect right to arrest persons as they enter or leave the presence of the Ameri-can legation. But while strenuously insisting upon the possession of this abstract right the government is at present making no attempt to put it in prac-tice. The partisans of Balmaceda, who took refuge under Minister Egan's roof are still there and no arrests have been made during the past few days.

It cannot be learned that the government has in contemplation any plan for asserting in the near future the right of arrest that is claimed. But it is thought that the present unsatisfactory situation cannot be of long continuance.

In accordance with instructions received from the state department at Washington, Minister Egan has given the junta to understand, by a formal and official notice, that if the Chilean authorities continue to maintain their present attitude the friend-ly relations between Chile and the United tates will be interrupted. The juntareply to this notice is awaited with great interest. What Minister Egan's next step will be in case the reply is unfavorable is nos known. The United States steamship San Fran cisco, which is returning from the north, is expected to reach Valparaiso some time this week. When she gets into port the first plan of the minister is to ask the Chilean government to allow the Chileau refugees now at the United States legation to go on board the United States man of war Baltimore and take their departure from Chilean territory.

Brilliant Illuminations Herald Fair Weel and the Entree of the Velled Prophet. Sr. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Down town St. Louis is a blaze of light to-night. The entire city is lighted every night in the year by electricity, but to-night the powerful are lights are aided by nearly 53,000 gas jets in globes of many tolors producing an effect which beggars description. On Washington Avenue the ornamental center poles of the elec-tric railway have been covered with gas jets and globes, in addition to the arches along the sidewalks and the massive wholesale houses on both sides enclose what may be described as three lines of beautiful light. On Broadway and Olive street, the popular retail thoroughfares, the street illuminations are simply dazaling while the store windows are so arrayed and lighted as to aid in the effect. On Twelfth street, an exceptionally wide thoroughfare, the double row of arches right over the driveways are giving out rays of soft-tinted illumination while the words "Let us have peace" stand out as in letters of fire on the life-like statue of Gen. Grant. Two blocks south a statue

The streets are crowded with peopls who have come in from a considerable distance, many of them to spend Fair Week which commences on Monday and Friday following he was unable to leave ends October 10th. The illuminations to- his bed and his regular physician was night are acknowledged to be the grandest ever witnessed in St. Louis or out of it, illness serious and he soon sent for and they will be repeated on Tuesday Oct. another physiciau, with whom he held a 6th, and Thursday Oct.8th, the latter being the last light up of the season.

Despite the crowd on the streets there was not a vacant seat in the great Music Hall in the Exposition at Gilmore's two concerts. The Exposition has attracted more visitors than ever before and is a phenomenal success. The Veiled Prophet appears on Tuesday evening when there s to be a magnificent parade of floats along the illuminated streets. Available windows to view the parade are being rented for the occasion and tens of thousands will do homage to the mystic prince. During the Fair the railroads will bring people here at about half the usual rates and the city is arranging to entertain the largest crowd that ever came within its over and above what the hotels and boarding houses can take care of is placed at the disposal of visitors. While St. Louis is spending hundreds of thousands in entertaining and amusing strangers, the wholesale and retail estabishments are crowded with guests, many of whom derive as much pleasure from going through them as from witnessing the festivities themselves. The new tinplate industry is an attraction few can withstand and the enormous breweries, tobacco factories, and shoe factories-to mention three industries in which St. Louis leads America—are visited daily by thousands. The Festivities and reduced railroad rates continue until October 17.

THE NOTED IRISH LEADER DIES SUDDENLY

LONDON, Oct. 8.-Great Britain and Ireland were startled yesteray by the utterly unlooked-for announcement that Charles-Stewart Parnell, the noted Irish leader. had died suddenly during the night at his home in Brighton. It had been well known that Mr. Parnell had not enjoyed the best of health for years, and it had been noticed and widely comment-ed upon that since the O'Shea divorce developments became a matter of public no-toriety, and since po-litical trouble came upon him, the great Irish member of par-liament had grown thinner and had perceptibly aged in ap-pearance. But no-body expected to hear of his death, and no inkling of his illness had reached the newspapers. Mr. Parnell arrived at his home at Brighton from Ireland Thursday and complained of suffering from a chill. On the summoned. He considered Mr. Parnell's long consultation over the sickness of the Irish leader.

C. S. PARNELL.

This consultation of physicians was resumed on Sunday, when Mr. Parnell was found to be in great pain and apparently growing weaker every hour. His sickness was pronounced to be an attack of acute rheumatism and every attention and care was paid to the sufferer. He was carefully and untiringly nursed by his wife, who hardly left his bedside.

Mr. Parnell did not rally from the rheumatic attack and grew weaker and weaker. Several hours before his death he became unconscious and so remained until he fied, in intense agony. Owing to the suddenness of the Irish leader's illness and to the belief of his wife and of the attending physicians that he would recover no friends or relations gates. Accommodation for 100,000 guests, of his family or of that of Mrs. Parnell were present at Mr. Parnell's bedside. Mrs. Parnell and the physicians were alone in attendance upon him when he died.

The exact nature of the disease which caused the death of the Irish leader is not nade known at present.

From the day he took to his bed, the state of Mr. Parnell's health had been such is to necessitate the constant attendance of two physicians, but in spite of their inessant and untiring efforts to prolong or o save his life, Mr. Parnell gradually sank ower and lower until he expired in the arms of Mrs. Parnell, who is utterly pros-trated by the shock of her husband's death. The last time Mr. Parnell appeared in public was at Creegs, in Ireland, September 27, when he delivered a long speech upon the attitude and alleged inconsisten-cies of Dillon and O'Brien. Upon that oc-speaking in defiance of the orders of the ors who were attending him, who had expressly ordered him to keep his room. While Mr. Parnell was speaking at Creegs it was noticed that he was very pale and that in other respects he was no the same man he had been in the past. In addition to his pallor, which seemed to de-note failing health, Mr. Parnell carried his left arm in a sling. His friends, upon asking him the cause of this, were in-formed that he was suffering from rheu-casion Mr. Parnell stated that he was matism.

Telegrams received here from Dublin and other towns in Ireland and from the principal towns in England unite in reporting that the death of Mr. Parnell has caused the greatest sensation among supporters, principally on account of the sudden manner in which he died.

In Dublin the late Irish leader's suppor ters were in great consternation. A meeting of these friends of Mr. Parnell was hastily called as soon as the news of his death became known, and at this meeting, which was a preliminary gathering, it was decided that a meeting of all Mr. Parnell's followers in that city, should be called for this evening. The object of this last meet-ing will be to consider what steps to take in the face of what may be termed a most disastrous event for their party.

HENNESSEY DEAD The Opponent of Parnell in North Ellkenny Goes Also.

LONDON, Oct. 9.-Coupled with the an souncement of Mr. Parnell's death was the news that Sir John Pope Hennessey, member of Parliament for North Kilkenny, was also dead.

Sir John Pope Hennessey, it will be remembered, immediately after the exposure in the O'Shea divorce case in December, 1890, contested the North Kilkenny election, backed up by Mr. Parnell's opponents, and defeated the Parnellite candidate, Mr. Vincent Scully, by the greatest test of strength between the Parnellites and McCarthyltes, and the defeat of Mr. Scully counted for a great deal in the future series of disasters which be-fell the Irish leader.

Twenty-Nine Divisions of the Great Church Represented in Session, WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 .- To-day began the second world's conference of the Methodist church and all its branches, the first having been held in London ten years ago. All branches of this great church in all parts of the world are represented by 500 delegates. No less than 200 of these are from the British division, including, besides ecclesiastical dignitaries, many statesmen of renown and men of world-wide scientific and legal ability. There are delegates (representing 12 distinct branches) from France from Australia, from Ireland from South Africa and from the West Indies. Then there are 300 delegates from the New World, representing seventeen branches of the Methodist church on this continent. These delegates are classified as follows: Methodist Epis copal, 126; Methodist Episcopal (south), 64; African Methodist Episcopal, 18; African Methodist Episcopal Zion, 15; Colored Methodist Episcopal, 9; American Wesley, 6; Union American Methodist Episcopal, 3; African Union Methodist Protestant, 3; Methodist Protestant, 9; Free Methodist, 3; Congrega-tion Methodist, 3; Methodist church of Canada, 24; Primitive Methodists, 3; Independent Methodists, 2; United Brethren in Christ, 7; Union Brethreu in Christ (old Constitution) 2; British Methodist Episcopal, 3. Twenty-nine divisions of the Methodist church are represented. This council, like its predecessor, is to be confined to discussions. From its nature there can be no legislation. No delegates or organization will be bound by what is said or done here. The animating purpose is to bring out the brightest and most practicable ideas of the most thought-ful representatives of the church, and the application of these ideas will be left to the discretion of the separate divisions.

The most radical differences to be noted between the coming council and the one held in London is revealed in the list of subjects selected for discussion. In the first council Methodism formed the principal topic while in this the programme has been diversified so as to touch upon questions of the day. Discussion of abstract ecclesiastical dogmas find small space but whole days are set apart for the consideration of questions relating to temperance, education, missions, Romanism social problems, issues between capital and labor, the relation of Methodism to scientific thought and practical church

HE MUST STAND TRIAL

The Rev. Dr. Briggs On Trial At New York Charged with Heresy. New York, Oct. 6.-Great interest is eing manifested in the meeting of the New York presbytery in the Scotch Prosbyterian church because the charge of heresy against the Rev. Dr. Briggs. For seventeen years he has been the professor of Hebrew in the semi-nary and a recognized authority on criticism in this country. Last winter he delivered an inaugural address on "The Authority of Scripture," in which the Bible, the church and the reason were named as the sources of divine authority, and the barriers of the Bible, superstition, verbal inspiration, authenticity, inerrancy, violations of laws of nature and minute prediction were demolished. This address precipitated matters in the same way that the publication of the Rev. Howard MacQueary's book brought about the trial and subsequent change of denomination of that divine. The report of the committee on presect tion was to have come up in the morning but Dr. Alexander offered a resolution t arrest all proceedings and discharge the committee. This provoked a hot debate which occupied the rest of the morning. When the afternoon work began, the report of the committee was presented set ting forth the charges against Rev. Dr Briggs.

A long and at times heated discussion followed, during which Dr. John Hall offered a compromise mildly censuring Dr Briggs. This was defeated Then the Alexander's proposition came up and was defeated; ministerial vote, yeas 50, nays were then served on Dr. Briggs.

The trial has been set for November 4.

Terrible Accident at a Funeral.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 6.-During a funeral procession at Altoona yesterday, mad runaways occurred and one man was killed outright, four other persons fatally injured and a score of people bruised and fractured. A procession of forty carriages was following the remains of Nichols Hemstre from the church to the cemetery located some distance out of town. While they were winding down a hill a team in the rear became frightened at a steam threshing machine and started to run.

The road was narrow and the runaway horses ran into and upset a dozen carriages in front of them, breaking six of them into splinters and scattering the occupants roac.cast.

A panic ensued as the other teams ran away and men and women jumped out of the oarriages, only to be trampled upon by the runaway teams.

THE INDIAN YROBLEM.

SUN.

Commissioner Morgan Discusses Grave Matters in Their Connection

Was Indian. Oct. 6.—The sixteenth safual report of the commission of the Indian affairs has just been submitted to the secretary of the interior. The report discusses at considerable length the political status of the Indians, tracing the evolution of the present policy result of the historical survey, the com missioner draws the following practical "First-During the whole course of our history the Indians of this country have been treated as separate communities, sus taining exceptional relations to us. They have been regarded as having relations directly with the general government alonand not indirectly through the states or to the states. "Second-That the fiction of regarding them as independent peoples has been dis-placed by the theory of regarding and treating them as wards of the general government. "Third-That the purpose of the govern ment, as has been made more and more evident, is to change their status from that of wardship to that of citizenship. "Fourth-That during the transition period and until the completion of their citizenship they should be regarded as subject to the laws of the general govern ment and under its care and guardianship "Fifth-That the time has come for declaration by congress to the effect that pereafter it will not recognize the Indians as competent to make war, but that in our dealings with them they should be treated not as beligerents, but as subject and dependent people, capable, of course, of in surrection, rioting or disturbance of th peace, but not of waging war. "Sixth-That the general government has the right, both for its own protect on for the protection of the public welfare and for the good of the Indians, not only to establish schools in which their children may be prepared for citizenship, but also to use whatever force may be necessary to secure to the Indian children the benefit of these institutions. "Seventh-I submit that the time is a hand for an extension over the Indians of the protection and privileges of our courts. Meanwhile, the development of Indian eservations of the courts of Indian offenses, by the perfecting of their code of procedure and the enlargement of their urisdiction will be helpful as a preparation for complete participation in our com-

"Eighth-I venture also to sugges whether the time is not at hand for the passage of an enabling act whereby the five civilized tribes may form either a territorial or a state government and be represented on the floors of congress.

Regarding the reduction of the reserva tions, which has proceeded with great rapidity during the year, the report says: "While it is possible to push this work too rapidly, perhaps, I do not hesitate to say that the ultimate destruction of the entire system of reservations is inevitable. There is no place for it in our present condition of life. The millions of acres of Indian lands now lying absolutely unused are needed homes for a very rapidly increasing population, and must be utilized. Whatever right and title the Indians have in them is subject to and must yield to the demands of civilization. They should be protected in the permanent possession of all the land that is necessary for their own support and whatever is ceded by them should be paid for at its full market value. But it can not be expected under any circumstances that these reservations can re main intact, hindering the progress of civ ilization, requiring an army to protect them from the encroachments of home seekers and maintaining a perpetual abode of savagery and animalism."

Raum Will Not Resign.

CHICAGO, Oct. J .- Green B. Raum, CHICAGO, Oct. J.—Green B. Raum, pen-sion commissioner, has not resigned. He arrived at the Grand Pacific hotel late last night and will stay in the city until Octo-ber 9. Mr. Raum is here in connection with the business of the army of Tennessee, which intends to take such active part in the unveiling of the Grant monument. When asked if he had resigned, the commissioner said:

"Well, no; I have only spoken to President Harrison privately concerning the attacks on the administration of the pension office. I told him that I did not wish to be an embarassment to the Republican party. If this incessant abuse however untrue, would prove embarassing to the party, then I was willing to resign rather than prove a stumbling block. The president told me that he was satisfied with my administration. Therefore I shall not resign as long as I feel sure that the party will not suffer. The attacks upon my ad ministration have been inspired solely by men who have been disappointed in their hunt for promotion."

A Child Bevoured by Hogs. VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 7. - The 6-year-old son of Robert Kirk was almost literally devoured by hogs yesterday. He had accompanied an older brother into the yard to feed the stock and while the elder boy was in the barn the younger attempted to catch a pig. The mother leaped at him and fastened her tusks in the back of the eck, dragging him to the ground.

Presently several hogs of the drove rushed at the child and began to devour him. The brutes tore all of his clothing into shreds and all the flesh from his cheeks, arms and legs, lacerating his left side in a horrible manner. The boy cied an hour after his rescue,
